

OTTAWA LOSES TO BURLINGTON

A Close and Interesting Game

MARKED BY GOOD WORK

Sensational One-hand Catch by Gardner—Fine Ground-Covering by Pattee—A Game of Intense Interest.

Burlington, July 19.—Burlington by good fielding back of Tiff's heady pitching, defeated Ottawa yesterday afternoon by the score of 4 to 3. The game was as interesting as close, and was featured by the playing of Pattee and Gardner of Burlington, and a nice catch by Ray of Ottawa. Sanger worked hard and well, and in spite of five errors charged against his teammates, received good support at critical times.

The locals were retired with the bases full in the fifth and in two other innings men died on third and second. Burlington had men on bases in all the eight innings, 12 in all. That the Daleys played in hard luck is evident from the bunching of three hits by the first three men in the first inning for no runs, not a man reaching third in fact, and again in the fifth three hits in succession netted but a single tally.

Larry Gardner made a running left-hand stab of Kennedy's hard hit in the ninth that was the prettiest play of the afternoon. Pattee got everything coming his way. His knack of getting in front of the ball makes his stops look easy, but there is not an infidel in the league that has anything on the Burlington man. Burde made one of his drives to the fence that delighted the crowd and played a careful game at short.

Burlington did not get a glimpse of the home plate until the fourth, when Hazelton broke the ice with a single into left, was sacrificed to second and scored on Gardner's single to left. Shaugnessy's return of the ball being off the plate.

In the sixth the locals went one ahead on two runs. Beach gave Dorman an error, went to third on a passed ball and scored on Tiff's bouncer to Clayton.

The latter was a curious mix-up, as Clayton's throw to lead off Beach struck Tiff squarely on the chin. Ottawa appealed to Hassett to call Tiff out for running out of the base line, but the ump, couldn't see it. Tiff, refreshed by the application of cooling water to his bumped chin, proceeded to steal second, made third on Pattee's scratch hit and scored on Hays' out at first. Burde's double and two outs at first brought in the fourth run.

The most tense moment of the game was in the fifth, when Burlington had men on every bag, with two out. Francis was up, but Captain Hays called Higgs into the game. The big fellow drove a hard ball into left centre that Slaughter, Shaugnessy, and Captain Johnny Dorman came in one happy smile.

Northern League Notes.

The report that Ottawa will be the next to go [out of the league] is stoutly denied by that community. The team is not paying any more than any other of the other teams, yet the town will probably have to ride enough to finish its first season—Ottawa Free Press.

Harry Gibbs, the new manager of the Plattsburg baseball team, will star in his own production this fall in "Brown of Harvard," playing the title role. Mr. Gibbs' company will probably open its season in New Rochelle, N. Y., and will be seen in Burlington during this fall.

CONCESSION TO OTTAWA.

League Votes to Stand Travelling Expense to Ottawa Last Trip.

Burlington, July 19.—At the adjourned meeting of the Northern League held at the Van Ness House yesterday afternoon, it was voted to release Ottawa in part from having to defray the travelling expenses of the other teams to and from Ottawa by agreeing that each team shall pay the expenses of its last scheduled trip. After this week each club goes to Ottawa twice, as by each team paying its own expenses on the last trip Ottawa is let out of half the remaining cost of its admittance to the league. The directors also voted to rescind that section of the league by-laws fixing the salary limit at $1,800 per month.

Neither action was taken until considerable discussion had been indulged in and on the vote relating to Ottawa, Rutland and Plattsburg voted no, it being necessary for the Ottawa representative to vote with Burlington and Montpelier-Barre to carry the motion.

A telegram was received by Manager Daley from Vice President V. P. Cain as follows: "Missed train. Executive voted last night that if R. farces must be dropped or we would disband." Nobody was frightened when the message was read at the meeting, and it is not thought that Ottawa with the concession it has gained will leave the league.

Protests Not Acted Upon.

The protest of Barre-Montpelier was read by President Bailey on Saturday's game at Rutland when the pitcher's box is claimed by the Intercity to have been over a foot too far from the home plate. As Rutland was unprepared to present itself with evidence supporting its contention that the distance was correct, it was voted to postpone decision on the question at issue until the next meeting of the league.

Rutland made a verbal protest on the umpiring of McColl because he called the game with Ottawa at Rutland last week on account of rain. As protests on the work of any umpire have to be made in writing and signed by three associations, no action was taken on the protest.

Those present were President Bailey of Montpelier, Donald Smith of Barre, H. Walter Lyons of Rutland, Harry Gibbs of Plattsburg, A. W. Daley of Ottawa, and T. E. Milne and S. J. Beatty of Burlington.

BOSTONS WIN A GAME

Defeat Detroit By Score of 5 to 2

A TWELVE INNING GAME

Between Chicago and New York National Teams Called Because of Darkness With Score of 3 to 3.

Boston, July 19.—Still hot on the trail of the Tigers, the much-defeated Pilgrims got on the sent for the second time, to prevent the fifth straight win of the Westerners at the Back Bay garden.

Though the home players were getting it on all sides from the fans, which was discouraging enough, the team knew that there were some loyal ones in the crowd, and it only needed some brisk work in the bad breaks to put them in good favor.

The one victory, a week, was about due, and the team worked fast while they had a look-in for the final award. In the third inning, Boston got in three runs and Detroit two, Boston getting two more in the seventh, making the final score Detroit 2, Boston 5.

In the National league the leaders went for 12 innings at New York, the game being called on account of darkness with the score Chicago 3, New York 3.

A Tragic Finish.

A watchman's neglect permitted a leak in the great North sea dyke, which a child's finger could have stopped, to become a ruinous break, devastating an entire province of Holland. In like manner Kenneth Melver of Vancouver, B.C., permitted a little cold to go unnoticed, until a tragic finish was only averted by Dr. King's New Discovery. He writes: "Three doctors gave me up to die of lung inflammation, caused by a neglected cold; but Dr. King's New Discovery saved my life." CHELSEA MAN BADLY HURT.

Board from Barn Scaffold Struck Him in the Face.

Chelsea, July 19.—Fred H. Bohanan of Chelsea, a young farmer, narrowly escaped death Tuesday afternoon.

Accompanied by a little boy he went to a barn some distance from any house and while at work some loose boards from a scaffold fell, striking him in the face and inflicting four ugly wounds, one cheek being cut open. Mr. Bohanan was unconscious for some time.

The little boy summoned aid from the nearest house and telephoned for a physician. Bohanan is in a critical condition, but is as comfortable as could be expected under the circumstances.

MOTHER GUIDES THAW

He Is Said To Have Taken Back Old Counsel

INSANITY PLEA NOW?

Belief That Defense Will Be Conducted Along This Line—Writ Argument Delay—Thaw's Mother and Wife Meet in Tombs.

New York, July 19.—The activity yesterday of Mrs. William Thaw, mother of Harry K. Thaw, who killed Stanford White, gave every indication that at her insistence her son had taken back as his counsel the firm of Black, Olcott, Gruber & Bonying and had acquiesced in its views of conducting his case. According to report, the mother has come to the same conclusion as that which former Judge Olcott is said to have reached, that the only way to save Thaw is through a plea of insanity; no matter whether or not that should land him eventually in the Matteawan Asylum for the Criminal Insane.

Mrs. Thaw is said to have reached her determination Tuesday night when she held a conference with the Hotel Lorraine with Lewis L. Deland and Mr. Olcott. She was at the Tombs at 11 o'clock yesterday morning, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. George Lander Carnegie. It was the first time that Mrs. Carnegie had seen her brother since the shooting.

Strenuous Time With Thaw.

After staying forty-five minutes with her son Mrs. Thaw and her daughter came down. The eyes of both women were red from weeping. Mrs. Thaw had to be supported by the younger woman as she almost tottered through the prison corridor and down the steps to her carriage. It was evident that the meeting had been an emotional one.

During their talk with young Thaw it was learned that the mother and daughter had tried hard to change his opinion about his counsel. They used their utmost endeavors to try and persuade him to come to their way of thinking and to consent to allow Judge Olcott's firm to remain in charge of the case. The result of their pleadings was not learned then, but it was rumored that the prisoner needed but little more persuasion to make him face about again and repudiate the lawyers he has retained in opposition to his family's wishes. Neither Mrs. Thaw nor her daughter would say anything about their future plans.

Hurries Back to Tombs.

After their visit to the Tombs Mrs. William Thaw and her daughter were driven downtown. They returned in about half an hour. The elder woman appeared considerably agitated. She wanted to see her son right away, but as the hour was outside the visiting time the Warden hesitated at giving her the permission. Finally he yielded to her appeal, and Mrs. Thaw and Mrs. Carnegie were again taken to the tier where Thaw is confined.

Young Mrs. Thaw Active, Too.

In the meantime Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, wife of the prisoner, had also been active. She had been at the Tombs at 10.30 o'clock and saw her husband for only a few minutes. She had left the prison before her mother-in-law arrived there.

The elder Mrs. Thaw had hardly reached the Tombs the second time when young Mrs. Thaw returned accompanied by Clifford W. Hartridge, the lawyer to whom Thaw turned over his case after he dismissed the Olcott firm. It became known then that Thaw had sent for his wife, and when she reached the Tombs reception room he sent a message to her asking that she see him unaccompanied. Mrs. Thaw repeated the message to Hartridge and the lawyer remained behind while the young woman went up to the cell.

The Two Mrs. Thaws Meet.

The elder and the younger Mrs. Thaw were in front of Harry Thaw's cell for about ten minutes. This was the first time they had met in the Tombs. When they were about to leave Hartridge was called upstairs. It is said that he was then told that former Judge Olcott had again been placed in full charge of the case. Mr. Hartridge was also assured, it was said, that he would remain as Harry Thaw's personal counsel.

Mrs. Thaw and her daughter-in-law left the prison together, the elder woman holding the younger woman by the arm. They went to Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw's cab and were driven away in it. It was reported at the Tombs that one reason why Thaw wanted his wife and mother to meet there was to set aside stories that his mother considered his wife at the bottom of all the trouble and that a wide breach had grown between them.

Olcott Back Again.
